Individual Notes:

Lainey Orange overall is confident and self-assured. He has moderate energy. He is playful, curious, social and happy. He is content to explore and play on his own, but prefers to be with and around people. He is very personable and engaging. He shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. He also reacts appropriately to new sights and sounds. He is curious and investigative. He has a good memory, focus and problem-solving abilities average for his age and stage of development. He has very good motivations for interaction and food as well as good motivation for toys. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with his littermates, other dogs, cats, and people. He does use his mouth to initiate or engage in play, but when he does, he has very good bite inhibition. He is rarely vocal during interaction, but does vocalize some in an effort to get or keep your attention which can be very easily managed and/or redirected. He is very consistent and have shows no red flags or possessiveness. He is very personable and engaging. He would do best in a home that is going to be interactive with him. Orange has good potential for therapy work.
