Individual Notes:

Kay Pink is confident and self-assured. Although, she may need a little time to adjust into new situations. She shows some stress in new situations, but little to no stress around new people, or in circumstances that would typically be considered stressful. This puppy is curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that would typically be considered startling. She has very good motivations for interaction, food, and toys above average for her age and stage of development. She also has a good memory focus and problem-solving abilities. Pink is socially appropriate in her interactions with littermates, with cats, and with other dogs. She is also socially appropriate in her interactions with people. She rarely uses her mouth to initiate or engage and play, and she is rarely vocal. This puppy is comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. Overall, this litter is very consistent with very few differences between them. All of these puppies have mid-level energy, and need a minute to adjust into a new situation. Once adjusted they are confident, curious, social, and happy. They are bubbly, playful, and eager in engaging while still being content to explore and play on their own. These puppies are very well balanced and should adapt well into most in a home.

Health notes:

Pink has a kink in tail.
