Individual Notes:

Gretchen White is confident and self-assured. She needs a little time to adjust to new situations, but she does so very well, and on her own. Once adjusted, she shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that would typically be considered stressful. She has a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average for her age and stage of development. She also has good motivations for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. This puppy reacts appropriately to new sights and sounds. She is curious and investigative of these sights and sounds, including those that would be considered startling. White is socially appropriate in her interactions with littermates, with cats, and with other dogs. She is also socially appropriate in her interactions with people. She is rarely vocal, and rarely uses her mouth to initiate or engage in play, she has excellent bite inhibition when she does. White has mid to moderate energy.

Overall. The Gretchen litter has no red flags and shows no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. These puppies are very similar with very few differences between them. The entire litter is playful, curious, social, and happy. They are eager and engaging, while still being content to explore and play on their own. They are personable and gentle with handling. These puppies are very well balanced, and should adapt well into most any home.
