Individual Notes:

Kiya orange is confident and self-assured, although he does need a little time to adjust into a new situation. He is a little timid to start and shows some stress in new situations. He shows no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. He has a good memory, focus and problem-solving abilities at balanced levels, appropriate to his age and stage of development. He also has good motivations for interaction, food and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with litter mates, cats and with dogs. He is also socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He does use his mouth somewhat to initiate or engage in play but has an excellent bite inhibition. He is rarely vocal. Orange is a little timid to start, but adjust very well and on his own. He is naturally gentle and respectful with interactions. He will do best in a home that will allow them to adjust to new things without being overwhelmed. He has mid-level energy. The litter overall have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. All of the puppies are content to explore and play on their own without being too independent. They are all personable and engaging. They are eager and affectionate. They are curious, playful, happy and social. These puppies are all well balanced, and should adapt well into most any home. Most of the Kiya litter has potential for therapy work.

Health notes:

Orange has no health issues.
