Individual Notes:

Pommery green is confident and self-assured. After a little time to adjust, he shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. He is curious and investigative with new sites and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. He has a good memory, focus and problem-solving abilities average to his age and stage of development. He also has good motivations for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with litter mates, cats and with other dogs. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He rarely uses his mouth to initiate or engage in play and has excellent bite inhibition, if he does. He is also rarely vocal. He is comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. The litter overall have no red flags and show no possessiveness. These puppies are very consistent with very few differences between them. Individual traits will become more pronounced as these puppies have different socialization and learning experiences. All of these puppies have mid-level energy. They are personable, happy, social, and eager. They are curious and playful. They are engaging and gentle with handling and interaction. These puppies are very well balanced and should adapt well into most any home.
