Individual Notes:

Torrance orange is confident and self-assured, although he may need a little time to adjust into a new situation. He is curious and investigative of new sites and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. He shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that would typically be considered stressful. He has a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities above average for his age and stage of development. He also has very good motivations for interaction, food and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with litter mates, cats, and with other dogs. He is also socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He rarely uses his mouth to initiate or engage in play, and has excellent bite inhibition if he does. Orange is rarely vocal. He has mid-level energy. The litter overall have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. These puppies are fairly consistent with very few differences between them. They are all social, happy, curious and engaging. They are personable and affectionate. They are gentle with handling and interaction. These puppies are well balanced, and should adapt well into most any home.

Health notes:

Orange has no health notes.
