Individual Notes:

Gwen orange is confident and self-assured. He shows no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that should typically be considered stressful. He reacts appropriately to new sights and sounds. He is curious and investigative, this includes sights and sounds which would typically be considered startling. He has a very good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to his age and stage of development. He also has very good motivations for interaction and food. He has a good motivation for toys. He is socially appropriate in his interactions with litter mates, cats and with other dogs. He is also socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He is rarely vocal. He also rarely uses his mouth to initiate or engage in play and has excellent bite inhibition if he does. The litter overall have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They all have mid-level energy. They are very consistent with subtle differences between them. These differences will become more pronounced as these puppies have different socialization and learning experiences. They are all personable, affectionate, gentle and engaging. They are happy and content to explore and play on their own, while not being too independent. They are gentle and respectful. They are curious and happy. These puppies are very well balanced and should adapt well into most any home.
