Individual Notes:

Valentine Orange is confident and self-assured. He shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. He is curious and investigated with new sights and sounds, including those that are startling. This puppy has very good memory focus and problem-solving abilities, average for his age and stage of development. He has excellent motivations for interaction and food, and good motivations for toys. Orange is socially appropriate in his interactions with littermates, with cats, and with other dogs. He is also socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He is rarely vocal and rarely uses his mouth to initiate or engage in play. When he does, he has very good bite inhibition.

Overall, The Valentine litter has no red flags and shows no possessiveness. They are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. These puppies are very consistent, with very few differences between them. These differences will become more pronounced with different social and learning experiences. These puppies all have mid to moderate energy. They are bubbly, happy, social, and eager. They are content to explore and play on their own, but are still very personable and engaging. They are gentle with handling and interaction. They are affectionate and very well balanced. They should adapt well into most any home.

Health notes:

Orange has no health notes.
