Individual Notes:

The Chanel litter overall is confident and self-assured although a couple of puppies needed a little time to adjust into a new situation, they showed little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or circumstances that are typically considered stressful. Orange is curious and investigative new sites and sounds, including those that are startling. He has good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to her age and stage of development. He also has very good motivation for treats, and good motivation for toys. These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another with cats and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people, they do use their mouth to initiate or engage in play, but have excellent bite inhibition. Orange is rarely vocal. He is comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. Although a few puppies were a little wiggly with this type of interaction these puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. Orange has Moderate energy. He is very playful, happy, bubbly, and social. Orange is eager and engaging, but content to explore and play on her own. Orange is a little more independent than the rest of the litter, but he is still personable and affectionate. He can be a little wiggly with excitement while being handled. Orange will do well in a home that needs to leave their puppy alone, as long as their needs are being met.
