Individual Notes:

Maggie White is confident and self-assured. She shows little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. She is curious and investigative of new sights and sounds, including those that would be considered startling. This puppy has good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average for her age and stage of development. She has excellent motivation for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. White is socially appropriate in her interactions with littermates, with cats, and with other dogs. She is also socially appropriate in her interactions with people. She rarely uses her mouth to initiate or engage in play, and has excellent bite inhibition if she does. White is rarely vocal. She has mid-level energy, and seems to take most everything in stride.

Overall, the Maggie litter has no red flags and shows no possessiveness. All of these puppies are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. They are very consistent with very few differences between them, these differences will become more pronounced as these puppies age and have different experiences with learning and socialization. They are very well balanced. They are content to explore and play on their own without being overly independent. They are personable and engaging without being pushy or overbearing. These puppies are curious, playful, happy, and social. They are eager and engaging. These puppies should adapt well into most any home environment.
