Individual Notes:

Roslyn Orange is confident and self-assured. He shows no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. This puppy reacts appropriately with new sights and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. He has a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average for his age and stage of development. He also has very good motivations for interaction and food, and he is interested in toys. Orange is socially appropriate in his interactions with littermates, with cats, and with other dogs. He is also socially appropriate in his interactions with people. He does use his mouth somewhat to initiate or engage in play, but has excellent bite inhibition. He is rarely vocal. Orange has mid to moderate energy.

Overall, the Roslyn litter has no red flags and shows no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. These puppies are very consistent with very few differences between them. Those differences are subtle, but will become more pronounced as the puppies grow and have different learning and socialization experiences. They are all very well balanced. They are content to explore and play on their own, while still being very personable and engaging. They are eager and affectionate, while not being overly pushy. They are personable, curious, happy, and social. These puppies should adapt well into most any home.
