Individual Notes:

The Abby litter overall is confident and self-assured after some time to adjust into a new situation. These puppies show some stress in a new situation and little to no stress around new people, or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigated with new sites and sounds, including those should be considered startling. These puppies have a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to their age and stage of development. They have excellent motivation for food and good motivation for interaction and toys. These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. These puppies are somewhat vocal during play, but it is easily managed and or redirected. They rarely use their mouth to initiate or engage in play and have excellent bite inhibition. They have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. Overall impressions of this litter is that they are gentle and respectful. They are fairly laid-back they have mid-level energy. They are curious, playful, happy and social. They are personable and affectionate. They are well balanced, content to explore, and play on their own. While still being engaging, these puppies will adapt well into most any home.
