Individual Notes:

The Bonnie litter overall is confident and self-assured. They show no stress in new situations, around new people and circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigated with new sites and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. They have a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to their age and stage of development. They can be a little hectic with their focus. These puppies have good motivations for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. They are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another with cats and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. Red does use her mouth quite a lot to initiate or engage in play, but she has excellent bite inhibition. She is rarely vocal. Red has no red flags and show no possessiveness. She is comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. When being active she calms down with handling. Red actively seeks out being held and handled. She has Moderate energy.

They are all confident and self-assured. They are content to explore and play on their own, but prefer to be with and around people. They actively work to get in keep your attention and can be a bit pushy at times, it is however easily managed and or redirected. These puppies have very good potential for therapy work. They are confident, curious, playful, and social. They are eager and engaging. They are well balanced, but we do best in a home that is going to be interactive with them.
