Julie Pink Dot came in with a nice confidence. She explored the new environment with curiosity and ranges away but checking in frequently.

She interacted appropriately with her littermates in new situations.

There was little to no stress shown when change was introduced and she also did well with stressors like bathing and extra handling.

Julie Pink Dot notices new sounds and new objects, and moves towards to investigate, tail up.

Her focus is scattered but returns after checking, she shows high interest in treats and no interest in toys.

She attempts to problem solve and does not give up and shows improvement with each previous experience.

While exploring, Julie Pink Dot uses her mouth less than half the time to figure it out. If she does use her teeth to explore, there is no pressure applied.

She also rarely vocalizes in any situation.

Julie Pink Dot is comfortable and tolerant of handling.

There was no possessive tendencies shown within the entire litter. Plays well with others.

Julie Pink Dot has a mid energy level. Julie Pink Dot is excited with little effort and is just happy to be here. She is very engaging. She interacts and comes right back after removal.

Julie Pink Dot shows a good balance of independence and engagement. She plays well on her own but has periods of trying to engage as well.
