Julie Blue came in with a nice confidence. He explored the new environment with curiosity and ranges away but checking in frequently.

He interacted appropriately with his littermates in new situations.

There was little to no stress shown when change was introduced and he also did well with stressors like bathing and extra handling.

Julie Blue notices new sounds and new objects and is interested in investigating where they came from. Cute curiosity.

His focus is good and he shows high interest in both treats and toys. These are great qualities for training. He attempts to problem solve and does not give up and shows improvement with each previous experience, new problems do not seem to stress him at all.

While exploring, Julie blue uses his mouth less than half the time to figure it out. If he does use his teeth to explore, there is no pressure applied.

He also rarely vocalizes in any situation.

Julie Blue is comfortable and tolerant with handling.

There was no possessive tendencies shown within the entire litter. Plays well with others.

Julie Blue has a mid-moderate energy level. Julie Blue gets excited about most things and is just happy to be here. He enjoys interacting with the tester and seeks permission to engage.

Julie Blue shows a good balance of independence and engagement. His confidence and curious nature partnered with high tolerance and good focus sets him up for great doodle success.
