Blue - a little shy to start. He watches what his brothers do and then copies of he wants to. He wants to be the one to initiate play.

He is vocal when he is unsure or nervous.

He takes a minute to warm up to people but he really wants to interact.

Once he warms up, he enjoys playing with toys and his siblings the most.

He settles in when you hold him. Very attentive of his surroundings.

Hes the "fun police"

If his brothers get too rambunctious.

He likes to play independently and has the cutest play hops and puppy bows.

Not too needy of your attention.

Green - good confidence. Very social and affectionate.

He loves attention, toys and playtime.

Will need basic manners training to better understand personal boundaries.

He wants to be in your lap and as close was possible. You can't make a move without him wanting to join in.

Moderate energy level.

Orange - (BP)good confidence and social. He really likes attention. Happy and curious. Affectionate and is not interested in personal space. He is very bouncy and agile. Loves to run and bounce off of things. It's totally adorable.

He wants to be in your lap when play time

Is over.

Smart puppy. He has unique potential with proper training.

No health notes.
