Bunnie Girls Temperament Overview:

The Bunnie litter overall is confident and self-assured, unless otherwise noted. These puppies show no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies have excellent motivation for interaction and good motivation for food and toys. These puppies have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities, average to their age and stage of development.

Overall, these puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They have excellent bite inhibition if they use their mouth to initiate or engage in play, and are rarely vocal. These puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint, most of these puppies actively seeking out this type of interaction.
