Ingrid Boys Temperament Overview:

The Ingrid litter overall is confident and self-assured. They show little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. These puppies have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to their age and stage of development. They have excellent motivation for interaction and good motivation for food and toys.

These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people, although a few of them can be a little pushy in their effort to get or keep your attention. A few of the puppies are vocal during play, but it is socially appropriate, and easily managed. They do use their mouth, but have excellent bite inhibition. They have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. Most of the puppies actively seek out this type of interaction. Most any puppy in this litter has potential for therapy work.
