Honey Boys Temperament Overview:

The Honey litter overall is very confident and self assured. They show no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. They react appropriately to new sights and sounds including those that should be considered startling. These puppies have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities above average for their age and stage of development. These puppies also have good motivations for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. They are extremely motivated by all of these things.

These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They do use their mouth to initiate and engage in play, but it is easily redirected and not problematic. They do have good bite inhibition and are rarely vocal. These puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint most of these puppies, actively seeking out this type of interaction.
