Irene Girls Temperament Overview:

The Irene litter is overall confident and self-assured after a little time to adjust to new situations. These puppies show little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. They react appropriately to new sights and sounds. They are also curious and investigative, including with sights and sounds that would typically be considered startling. These puppies overall have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities above average for their age and stage of development. They also have excellent motivation for interaction and good motivation for food and toys.

These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They do use their mouths somewhat but have excellent bite inhibition. They tend to vocalize in their effort to get your attention or to engage and play, but it is easily managed and redirected. These puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint, with most of the puppies actively seeking out this type of interaction.
