Verona Litter Temperament Overview:

The Verona litter overall is confident and self-assured. They show no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds including those that should be considered startling. Overall these puppies have very good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities above average for their age and stage of development. They have excellent motivation for interaction and food and good motivation for toys.

These puppies are socially appropriate and their interactions with one another, cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They do use their mouth to initiate and engage in play, but have excellent bite inhibition and are rarely vocal. These puppies have good energy when they are on the ground and playing, but once interacted with, engaged with, or held, they immediately calm down and become very gentle. They are very good at reading what is needed in that moment. These puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all very good with handling and restraint.
