Fifi Boys Temperament Overview:

The Fifi litter overall is confident and self-assured. They show no stress in new situations or around new people, even in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. They have excellent memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities—above average for their age and stage of development. They also have very good motivation for interaction and food and show good interest in toys.

These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They rarely use their mouths to initiate or engage in play, but when they do, they demonstrate excellent bite inhibition. They are rarely vocal. All of the puppies are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. Most actively seek out this type of interaction. Overall, the impression of this litter is that they are very consistent and engaging. All of these puppies have strong potential for therapy work.
