Liana Boys Temperament Overview:

The Liana litter is overall very confident and self-assured. They show no stress in new situations, whether around new people or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that could be considered startling. They demonstrate good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities—right on track for their age and stage of development.

They have very good motivation for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. Socially, these puppies are appropriate in their interactions with one another, as well as with cats and other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. At times, they can be vocal in appropriate situations or during play. While they do use their mouths to initiate or engage in play, their bite inhibition is very good. None of the puppies show red flags or possessiveness, and all are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint.

These puppies are fairly consistent as a group, and the overall impression is that they are full of personality packed into tiny, happy packages.
