Maeve Litter Temperament Overview:

The Maeve litter is very confident and self-assured, showing no stress in new situations, whether around new people or in circumstances that could typically be considered stressful. They react appropriately to new sights and sounds, displaying curiosity and investigative behavior. Their memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities are average for their age and stage of development.

These puppies have strong motivation for interaction as well as food and toys. They are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, with other dogs, and with people. They have no red flags, show no possessiveness, and are rarely vocal. They rarely use their mouths to initiate play, and if they do, their bite inhibition is excellent. Each puppy is comfortable with and tolerant of handling and restraint, often actively seeking out this type of interaction.

Overall, this litter is very personable, affectionate, eager, and happy. They are social, confident, and engaging, with excellent potential for therapy work.
