The Chevelle litter overall is confident and self-assured. They show little to no stress in new situations or around new people, even in circumstances typically considered stressful. They are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that might be considered startling.

These puppies have very good focus—above average for their age and stage of development. They also demonstrate good memory and problem-solving abilities. They have excellent motivation for both food and interaction, as well as good motivation for toys.

Socially, they are appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. While they do use their mouths to initiate and engage in play, they have excellent bite inhibition and are rarely vocal.

They show no red flags and no signs of possessiveness. Overall, they are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. The puppies are fairly consistent, with only subtle differences between individuals.
