Hazelnut Litter Temperament Overview:

The Hazelnut litter overall is confident and self-assured after just a couple of minutes to adjust in new situations. While they may briefly pause when first introduced to something new, they recover quickly and respond appropriately. These puppies are curious and investigative, showing interest in sights and sounds—including those that could be considered startling. Their memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities are right on track for their age and stage of development.

They show balanced motivations for food, toys, and interaction, with consistent engagement across the board. Socially, they are appropriate with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. With people, they are gentle, respectful, and rarely use their mouths to initiate or engage in play. Their bite inhibition is excellent. They show no red flags, no possessiveness, and are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint—with most of them actively seeking out interaction and affection.

Overall, these puppies are consistent and well balanced. They are content to explore and play on their own while still being personable and engaging. Their combination of curiosity, sociability, and playfulness makes them a joyful group, though they do appreciate just a moment to adjust before showing their happy, silly, and social natures.
