Sage Litter Temperament Overview:

The Sage litter is confident and self-assured, showing no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that might be considered startling. Overall, they display excellent motivation for interaction and strong motivation for food and toys.

Their memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities are above average for their age and stage of development. The Sage puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, as well as with cats, dogs, and people. They rarely use their mouths to initiate play and show excellent bite inhibition when they do. These puppies are rarely vocal, have no red flags, and show no possessiveness.

All are comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint, with most actively seeking out interaction and affection. This litter is very consistent overall—loving, affectionate, and eager to please. Many have potential to excel as therapy or service dogs due to their calm, intuitive nature and social confidence.
