Delores Litter Temperament Overview:

The Delores litter overall is very confident and self-assured. Unless otherwise noted, these puppies show little to no stress in new situations, with new people, or in environments that might typically be considered stressful. They react appropriately to new sights and sounds—including those that are startling—and recover quickly and naturally. These puppies are consistently curious and investigative, taking in their environment with bright, interested focus.

Their memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities are well above average for their age and developmental stage. They have excellent motivation for interaction and food, paired with very good interest in toys, making training and engagement highly rewarding. Socially, they are appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with dogs. They are equally appropriate with people, often showing eagerness and enthusiasm for attention.

Many of these puppies use their mouths to initiate or engage in play, but they demonstrate excellent bite inhibition, keeping interactions gentle and appropriate. They are rarely vocal, show no possessiveness, and display no red flags. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint, with most actively seeking out this kind of physical connection.

Overall, this litter is very well-balanced—eager, happy, social, and engaging. They each bring joyful, confident personalities and should be well-suited to a wide range of homes and lifestyles.
