Starla x Blaze — Parent Overview

Starla is a very gentle, sweet, and affectionate girl who prefers to get to know you a bit before fully opening up. She can be slightly reserved in new situations and around new people, but her soft spirit and genuine desire to interact make her a truly loving and easygoing companion. Once comfortable, she is a total cuddle bug with a naturally respectful and gentle demeanor.

Breed: F1B Schnoodle

Weight: 11lbs

Blaze balances her beautifully. He is a happy, intelligent boy who loves to train, play, and engage in just about any adventure despite his small size. He carries good energy, is quite athletic, and pairs his drive with an ability to settle in for quality cuddle time. His eagerness to please and natural trainability make him a joy to work with.

Breed: Mini Poodle

Weight: 10lbs

Together, Starla and Blaze are expected to bring out the very best in one another. Historically, Starla's puppies may be a bit timid or unsure to start, but they adjust well and develop into gentle, respectful companions. Blaze should add confidence, trainability, and a strong desire to please to this litter. This pairing blends softness and affection with intelligence and engagement, resulting in puppies that reflect the best of both worlds.
