

Maria Boys Temperament Assessment

Maria Boys Play Video

Date of Birth: 4/14/2026

Maria Litter Temperament Overview:

The Maria x Jeremiah litter is an exceptionally well-rounded, confident, and highly engaging group that beautifully reflects the strengths of both parents. These puppies are very personable, affectionate, and naturally motivated by both people and interaction, making them easy to connect with and enjoyable to be around. They show strong early confidence without being pushy, and approach new situations, handling, and engagement with curiosity and ease.

Across the litter, there is a very consistent foundation of intelligence, responsiveness, and social awareness, with each puppy offering slight variations in energy and engagement style to suit a wide range of homes. Energy levels range from mid to moderate, with most puppies becoming more animated during play and interaction, while still being able to settle appropriately.

Overall, this is a very adaptable and trainable litter that should transition smoothly into family environments. With their strong human focus, affectionate nature, and balanced temperaments, many within this group show nice early potential for therapy, emotional support, or companion roles, while also being wonderful, well-adjusted family dogs.

Maria Blue

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Maria Blue is a confident, alert, and highly engaging puppy with a slightly more active presence compared to some of his littermates. He is very aware of his surroundings, quick to engage, and enjoys both interaction and independence in a balanced way. While he is personable and enjoys people, he does not rely on constant attention and is comfortable doing his own thing when needed. He can become wiggly during handling once he's ready to move on, showing a more energetic and active side. His energy level sits in the mid to moderate range, with the ability to elevate during interaction and play. He will do best in a home that is comfortable with a slightly more active puppy and can provide engagement, structure, and outlets for his energy.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Maria Green

POTENTIAL THERAPY / ESA CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Maria Green is a very well-balanced, personable, and easygoing puppy who represents a true “middle-of-the-road” temperament within the litter. He is confident without being pushy, enjoys interaction, and remains calm and composed in most situations. He handles interaction and handling exceptionally well and shows a steady, reliable personality throughout. He enjoys people but does not overly demand attention, making him very easy to live with. His energy level is a true mid, meaning he can engage and play when appropriate while also settling nicely. With his balanced demeanor, tolerance, and engagement, he shows nice early potential for therapy or emotional support work. He will do well in a wide variety of homes.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Maria Orange

POTENTIAL SERVICE + THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: Maria Orange is an extremely people-oriented, affectionate, and engaging puppy who thrives on connection and interaction. He is very confident and outgoing, often going out of his way to seek attention and stay involved. His affectionate nature can come across as enthusiastic or eager, especially during interaction, but it is driven by his strong desire to connect. He is playful, happy, and full of personality, while still remaining socially appropriate. His energy level leans moderate, especially when engaging with people, and he uses that energy to bond and interact. With his strong human focus, confidence, and responsiveness, he shows exceptional early potential for service, therapy, or alert-style work. He will do best in a home that enjoys a very interactive and involved puppy.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Maria Blue Dot

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Maria Blue Dot is a happy, affectionate, and very engaging puppy who enjoys interaction but maintains a balanced overall demeanor. He is confident and personable, with a playful and expressive personality. While he enjoys attention, he is not overly dependent on it and can balance engagement with independence. He may become wiggly during handling once he is ready to move on, showing a more energetic and playful side. His energy level falls in the mid to moderate range, rising during play and interaction. He will do well in a variety of homes, especially those that enjoy a playful and engaging companion.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Maria Green Dot

- Energy Level: Mid To Moderate
- Personality: Maria Green Dot is a more independent and free-spirited puppy compared to his littermates. While he can be playful and engaging, he is less driven by constant interaction and is comfortable entertaining himself. He is confident and curious, preferring to explore and do his own thing rather than consistently seeking attention. He may be wiggly during handling as he prefers to be active and moving. His energy level is mid to moderate, with a steady and consistent presentation. He will do best in a home that appreciates a slightly more independent puppy and allows him space while still providing engagement when he seeks it.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Maria Orange Dot

POTENTIAL THERAPY / ESA CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Maria Orange Dot is a very happy, playful, and well-balanced puppy with a great blend of engagement and ease. He is personable and enjoys interaction, but does so in a calm and appropriate way without being overly demanding. He is very tolerant with handling and shows a steady, easygoing personality overall. His playful and motivated nature makes him fun to be around, while his balanced temperament makes him easy to integrate into a home. His energy level is a true mid, allowing him to engage in play while also settling nicely. With his combination of temperament, tolerance, and engagement, he shows nice early potential for therapy or emotional support work. He will do well in most home environments.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

MEET THE PARENTS!

Meet the Parents

Maria x Jeremiah — Parent Overview

Maria is a sweet, gentle, and even-keeled retriever with a soft and thoughtful approach to life. She seeks out affection in a quiet, respectful way, rarely being vocal or pushy, and brings a calming, steady presence to those around her. Maria's gentle nature makes her incredibly easy to live with and deeply endearing.

Breed: English Retriever

Weight: 62lbs

Jeremiah is her energetic and playful counterpart—full of drive and always ready for action. He is highly motivated by both people and food, making him exceptionally trainable and intelligent. Jeremiah brings enthusiasm and intensity to everything he does, with a personality that is constantly seeking engagement and activity.

Breed: Moyen Poodle

Weight: 27lbs

Together, Maria and Jeremiah are expected to meet beautifully in the middle, producing puppies that are sweet, playful, engaging, affectionate, and intelligent. We anticipate mid to moderate energy levels, strong motivation for both people and food, and well-balanced temperaments that make them a great fit for a wide variety of home environments.