Sansa Boys Play Video

Date of Birth: 4/3/2026

Sansa Litter Temperament Overview:

The Sansa litter is a confident, social, and well-balanced group that reflects the strong consistency expected from this pairing. These puppies demonstrate a natural inclination toward human interaction, showing clear engagement, responsiveness, and a desire to connect. While they are capable of independent exploration and play, their primary motivation is people, and they consistently gravitate toward interaction when given the opportunity.

This litter presents as adaptable and emotionally stable, with puppies that adjust well to their environment and maintain appropriate social behavior across interactions. They are playful and engaging without being overwhelming, and their temperaments remain balanced without leaning toward extremes. Energy levels range from Mid Level to Mid to Moderate, with most presenting at a steady mid level. They tend to elevate slightly during interaction but settle appropriately when stimulation decreases.

Overall, this is a very personable and consistent litter with strong social awareness, good adaptability, and a natural ability to form connections. These puppies are expected to transition smoothly into a variety of home environments, particularly those seeking a well-rounded, people-oriented companion with a balanced and reliable temperament.

Sansa Blue

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Sansa Blue is a more independent, free-spirited boy who is confident moving through the world in his own way, while still having a soft and affectionate side once he settles in. He may take a moment to fully engage, but adjusts nicely and becomes sweet, curious, and easy to be around. He naturally leans more toward independence than constant attention, making him a wonderful fit for a home that appreciates a puppy who can entertain himself while still enjoying connection on his own terms. He carries a steady, true mid-level energy that stays consistent across environments, giving him a calm, even-keeled presence overall.

Sansa x Voodoo — Parent Overview

Sansa is a sweet, engaging, and well-balanced retriever with a very affectionate nature. She loves attention and closeness, often seeking it out in the most endearing ways, and can be a bit pitiful when asking for more love. While she is capable of entertaining herself when needed, her true preference is being near her people and soaking up affection.

Breed: English Retriever

Weight: 62lbs

Voodoo is very similar in nature—sweet, affectionate, fun, and highly engaging. He has a zest for life and enjoys everything from playing and running to cuddling up close. His easygoing, happy personality and love for interaction make him a truly wonderful companion all around.

Breed: Standard Poodle

Weight: 49lbs

Together, Sansa and Voodoo are expected to produce puppies that are sweet, affectionate, engaging, and well-balanced. We anticipate mid to moderate energy levels, with strong motivation toward people and interaction over anything else. This litter should be fun-loving and adaptable, making them an excellent fit for a wide variety of home environments.
