Tilly Boys Play Video

Date of Birth: 3/31/2026

Litter Temperament Overview:

The Tilly x Ian litter is a very gentle, affectionate, and well-balanced group that continues to reflect the consistency seen in this repeat pairing. These puppies may take a brief moment to settle in new environments, but they adjust beautifully with time and encouragement, quickly becoming happy, engaging, and eager to connect. They are naturally curious and thoughtful, showing strong problem-solving ability, good focus, and age-appropriate intelligence.

This litter is highly motivated by both human interaction and food, making them very responsive and enjoyable to work with. They are socially appropriate with people, other dogs, and even cats, and they demonstrate excellent manners, including strong bite inhibition and minimal vocalization. They are very tolerant with handling and display a soft, gentle nature overall.

Energy levels sit at a steady mid level to mid to moderate, making them easy to live with while still being playful and engaging. These puppies thrive on connection and do best in homes that will allow them a moment to adjust and then continue to engage with them, helping build their confidence and strengthen their natural desire to form close, lasting bonds. Overall, this is a very sweet, intelligent, and deeply people-oriented litter that will transition beautifully into a wide variety of loving homes.

Tilly Blue

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Tilly Blue is an extremely well-balanced, gentle, and easygoing puppy who brings a calm and steady presence to every interaction. He may take a brief moment to adjust in new environments, but once he settles, he is sweet, affectionate, and quietly engaging. He has a very even temperament and does not lean heavily toward either independence or neediness, making him a true “middle of the road” companion.

He is content to be with his people but does not demand constant attention, and he is equally comfortable relaxing or gently engaging when invited. His tolerant and neutral approach to handling, paired with his consistent energy level, makes him very predictable and easy to live with. He is not overly driven by interaction or engagement, which keeps him grounded and steady in different environments. Overall, he is a calm, adaptable, and dependable puppy who will transition beautifully into most homes, especially those looking for a relaxed and balanced companion.

Tilly Green

POTENTIAL SERVICE + THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Tilly Green is a very sweet, observant, and people-oriented puppy who combines gentle affection with a naturally engaging personality. He is confident without being pushy and approaches the world with a thoughtful and curious mindset. While he may take a very brief moment to settle in new situations, he quickly becomes comfortable and shows a warm, affectionate, and social nature.

He is incredibly people-oriented and intuitive, naturally striving to form strong bonds and stay closely connected with his family. He enjoys interaction and engagement and tends to gravitate toward people, while still maintaining the ability to explore and entertain himself when needed. He is very tolerant with handling and enjoys affection, even if he can be a little wiggly at first due to excitement. Based on his engagement, confidence, responsiveness, and natural connection to people, he shows good early potential for therapy, service, or emotional support work. He will do best in a home that is interactive, engaging, and enjoys including him in daily life.

Tilly x Ian — Parent Overview

Tilly:

Weight: 33lbs

Breed: F1B Goldendoodle

Ian:

Weight: 27lbs

Breed: F1B Schnoodle

This is a repeat breeding, allowing us to rely on established temperament data from the previous Tilly x Ian litter. That group was gentle and highly personable, often presenting as a bit timid at first but adjusting beautifully with time, patience, and encouragement. Once comfortable, the puppies became affectionate, curious, and eager to interact, showing strong emotional recovery and growing confidence as they settled in.

They demonstrated good memory, focus, and age-appropriate problem-solving skills, along with strong motivation for both food and human interaction. This combination made them especially responsive and rewarding to work with in a home setting. Socially, they were appropriate and well-mannered with people, other dogs, and even cats. Mouth use during play was minimal, with excellent bite inhibition, and while they could occasionally vocalize when seeking attention, they were easily redirected.

Together, this pairing consistently produces sweet, gentle, and connection-driven puppies with a thoughtful approach to new environments. Their intelligence and strong desire for interaction make them well-suited for homes that provide structure, encouragement, and positive reinforcement. With time to adjust and build confidence, these puppies are expected to become deeply affectionate, adaptable companions and a wonderful fit for families who value both connection and steady development.
