Ava Litter Temperament Overview:

This litter is a beautiful reflection of both parents, combining Ava's gentle, slightly bashful sweetness with Slade's calm, affectionate, and people-focused nature. Overall, these puppies are very personable, engaging, and affectionate, with a naturally balanced and easygoing demeanor.

While they may take a brief moment to settle into new environments, they adjust nicely and show their true personalities quickly — sweet, gentle, and quietly confident puppies who truly enjoy being around their people. They are not overly pushy or overwhelming, but instead build connection in a very natural and steady way.

Energy levels are mid across the board, making them highly versatile for a variety of homes. This litter is especially well-suited for families looking for a puppy that is affectionate, intuitive, and easy to live with, while still being playful and engaging.

There are nice early indicators for therapy and emotional support potential within this litter, as many display strong people focus, attentiveness, and the ability to form meaningful bonds while maintaining a calm and balanced presence.
