

Girls Temperament Assessment

Dali Girls Play Video

Date of Birth: 6/22/2026

Dali Litter Temperament Overview:

This litter is a beautifully well-balanced, sweet, and easygoing group with a naturally adaptable “jack-of-all-trades” temperament. They embody a thoughtful mix of their parents, showing playfulness, affection, curiosity, and engagement, while still maintaining a calm and respectful overall presence.

They are people-oriented and connection-driven, with many showing a natural desire to interact and be involved, while others display a slightly more independent or observant nature that will continue to develop with maturity. Energy levels are consistently mid level, with the ability to rise during play and interaction, but they settle appropriately and maintain good balance.

Overall, this is a versatile, well-rounded litter that will thrive in a variety of homes, especially those looking for a sweet, engaging companion that is both playful and affectionate without being overwhelming.

Dali Red

★ Prep Student: 8-Week S.T.A.R. Puppy Program

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Dali Red is a gentle, respectful, and well-balanced puppy who takes a little time to fully settle into new environments. She may initially present as slightly unsure, but with patience, she becomes calm, curious, and quietly engaging.

She maintains a balanced approach to interaction, showing interest in people while not being overly demanding. This allows her to exist comfortably both independently and within a family dynamic.

She is tolerant with handling, though she may carry some initial tension that softens as she becomes more comfortable. Her energy level remains steady at mid level, with the ability to grow in confidence over time.

Overall, she is a thoughtful and steady companion, best suited for a home that will allow her to adjust at her own pace and continue building confidence.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Dali Pink

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Dali Pink is a thoughtful and developing puppy who benefits from time to feel comfortable in new situations. She may appear tense initially, but once settled, she becomes curious, playful, and socially aware, showing a soft and engaging personality.

She demonstrates a balanced temperament, engaging with people while still maintaining independence. This makes her adaptable, especially in a home that allows her to build confidence gradually.

She is tolerant with handling, though she may carry some tension at first before relaxing. Her energy level is consistently mid level, with potential to open up further as she matures.

Overall, she is a well-balanced companion who will thrive in a home that is patient, calm, and supportive during her adjustment period.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Dali White

She maintains a nice balance between independence and connection, engaging when invited while also being content on her own. This makes her a versatile puppy for many different home environments.

She is tolerant with handling, though some initial tension may be present before she relaxes. Her energy level remains steady at mid level, with room to expand as confidence grows.

Overall, she is a dependable and well-rounded companion, best suited for a home that allows her to continue developing at her own pace.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Dali Pink Dot

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Dali Pink Dot is a gentle, respectful, and developing puppy who may need a moment to feel comfortable before fully engaging. Once settled, she becomes curious, social, and easygoing, showing a calm and balanced demeanor.

She demonstrates a steady temperament, engaging with people without being overly dependent, while also being comfortable existing independently. This creates a very manageable and adaptable personality.

She is tolerant with handling, though she may initially feel tense before relaxing. Her energy level remains consistent at mid level, with expected growth as she matures.

Overall, she is a well-balanced companion who will do best in a home that allows her to build confidence gradually.

- Physical Evaluation:

Teeth are slightly delayed in eruption at this time. This is not uncommon and will continue to be monitored as the puppy develops.

Puppy is being monitored for a possible mild underbite at this time. If present, this would be very minor, cosmetic only, and will not affect daily life or cause discomfort. This has been cleared by our vet. (Trending smaller.)

Dali x Ian — Parent Overview

Dali is a happy, confident, and playful mom with a wonderfully sweet and outgoing disposition. She has an incredible desire to please and genuinely loves being with and around her people. Whether she's playing, learning, or simply spending time by your side, Dali approaches every interaction with enthusiasm, warmth, and a deep love for connection.

Breed: F1B Goldendoodle

Weight: 64lbs

Ian shares that same versatile nature. He is sweet, outgoing, engaging, and fun, with a playful, bubbly personality that shines during activity. At the same time, he is more than happy to roll over for belly rubs or curl up in your lap for a nap. Ian truly embodies a "jack-of-all-trades" temperament, effortlessly balancing energy, affection, and adaptability.

Breed: F1B Schnoodle

Weight: 27lbs

Together, Dali and Ian are expected to produce puppies that inherit the same wonderfully versatile personalities as their parents. We anticipate playful, sweet, outgoing, intelligent, affectionate, engaging, and delightfully silly puppies with mid to moderate energy levels and motivation across many areas. This litter should adapt beautifully to a wide variety of home environments, making them exceptional companions for families looking for a well-rounded, people-oriented puppy.
