Date of Birth: 6/11/2026

Heidi Litter Temperament Overview:

The Heidi litter is a very sweet, engaging, affectionate, playful, curious, and gentle group with an overall well-balanced temperament. These puppies show a nice desire for interaction while maintaining an easygoing nature, and they are consistently tolerant and respectful in their handling.

This repeat breeding has historically produced puppies with confidence, curiosity, strong focus, excellent memory, and age-appropriate problem-solving abilities, along with balanced motivation for people, food, and toys. The current litter is presenting with a steady mid level energy, with some puppies becoming slightly more animated during interaction. Overall, they are intelligent, adaptable puppies who should thrive in a variety of homes, particularly those that will provide regular engagement, affection, and interaction.

Heidi Pink

POTENTIAL THERAPY / ESA CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Heidi Pink is a very sweet, focused, gentle, and curious puppy with a soft, well-balanced demeanor. She may need a brief moment to adjust initially, but she settles appropriately and becomes comfortable as she has time to take in her surroundings.

She shows a slight preference toward people with good engagement, enjoying interaction and connection while remaining nicely balanced. Her focused nature is a particularly nice quality, while her gentle curiosity allows her to explore and engage without being overwhelming.

She demonstrates great tolerance with handling, remaining cooperative and respectful. Her energy is a textbook mid level, allowing her to engage and interact while maintaining an easy overall presentation.

Overall, Heidi Pink is a gentle, focused, tolerant, and affectionate puppy who shows decent early potential for therapy or emotional support work as she continues to mature. Her balanced temperament should allow her to adapt well to a variety of homes.

- Physical Evaluation:

Heidi Pink currently has a level bite that will continue to be monitored as she grows. She is also trending small. She has a slight crimp at the very end of her tail. This is purely cosmetic and does not cause her any pain, discomfort, or affect her daily life in any way. This has been cleared by our vet.

Heidi Red

POTENTIAL THERAPY / ESA CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Heidi Red is a very sweet, playful, gentle, and curious puppy with a well-balanced and respectful disposition. She may need a brief moment to become completely comfortable initially, but she settles appropriately and presents as an easygoing puppy once adjusted.

She has a slight preference toward people with good engagement, enjoying affection and interaction while maintaining a balanced degree of independence. Her gentle curiosity and sweet disposition make her pleasant and easy to engage with.

She demonstrates great tolerance with handling, remaining cooperative and respectful. Her energy is a textbook mid level through and through, giving her a versatile temperament that lends itself nicely to a variety of home environments.

Overall, Heidi Red is a well-balanced, gentle, tolerant, respectful, and affectionate puppy who shows decent early potential for therapy or emotional support work. She was also specifically noted as an excellent selection for Nancy Griffin, with her temperament presenting as a strong fit for that match.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Breed: F1 Schnoodle

Brutus:

Weight: 9lbs

Breed: Mini Poodle

Together, this repeat breeding benefits from a real, established temperament assessment from the previous litter, allowing us to confidently use that evaluation as a guide for what to expect from this pairing.

The Heidi litter consistently produced puppies that were confident and self-assured, showing no signs of stress in new environments or around unfamiliar people—even in situations typically considered challenging. These puppies were naturally curious and investigative, responding appropriately to new sights and sounds, including those that might be startling.

Socially, they interacted appropriately with littermates, cats, other dogs, and people. They rarely used their mouths during play and demonstrated excellent bite inhibition when they did. Vocalization was minimal, and no possessive behaviors or red flags were observed. These puppies were comfortable with handling and restraint and tolerated both with ease.

Overall, this pairing produced puppies with excellent memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities appropriate for their age, along with very balanced motivation across interaction, food, and toys. The result was a well-rounded, confident, and socially stable litter with beautifully consistent temperaments.
