Noodle Girls Play Video

Date of Birth: 5/23/2026

Noodle Litter Temperament Overview:

The Noodle litter presents as sweet, gentle, and naturally people-oriented, with a slightly softer, more thoughtful approach when first introduced to new environments. Across the board, they may take a brief moment to settle, but adjust well and consistently become affectionate, engaging, and connected once comfortable.

They are personable, easygoing, and very tolerant with handling, showing a calm, cooperative nature that makes them both enjoyable companions and easy to work with. Their engagement style is balanced and natural, with a clear willingness to connect without being overwhelming or overly demanding.

Energy levels are a steady mid level throughout the litter, sometimes rising with interaction and excitement, but regulating well and remaining manageable. This creates a nice balance of playfulness and calm, allowing them to be interactive while still settling appropriately.

Several puppies in this litter show early potential for therapy work, supported by their gentle temperaments, handling tolerance, and willingness to engage, with confidence expected to continue building as they mature.

Overall, this is a very well-rounded, sweet-natured litter that will thrive in homes willing to give them a moment to adjust, resulting in affectionate, connected, and easygoing companions.

Noodle Pink

POTENTIAL THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Noodle Pink is a very sweet, personable, and engaging puppy with a naturally gentle and affectionate disposition. She may take a brief moment to settle when first introduced to new environments, but adjusts well and quickly begins to show her connected and interactive nature.

She is very tolerant and gentle with handling, responding in a calm, cooperative, and easygoing way, making her very approachable and enjoyable to work with. Her demeanor is soft and balanced, allowing her to engage without becoming overwhelming.

She carries a nicely balanced independence, comfortable both engaging with people and existing without constant attention. Her human focus is present and natural, showing a willingness to connect while maintaining a steady, manageable temperament.

Her energy level is a consistent mid level, presenting evenly day-to-day with a slight rise during interaction, while still maintaining a calm and well-regulated presence.

She shows nice early potential for therapy work, supported by her gentle temperament, strong handling tolerance, and ability to engage comfortably once settled, with confidence expected to continue building over time.

Overall, she is a well-balanced, affectionate, and easygoing puppy who benefits from a moment to adjust, resulting in a very sweet, engaging, and reliable companion.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Noodle Red

POTENTIAL THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid Level

- Personality:

Noodle Red is a very personable, engaging, and affectionate puppy who shows a clear preference for people and interaction. She may take a brief moment to settle initially, but adjusts well and becomes curious, connected, and eager to engage.

She is naturally people-oriented, showing a strong desire to be involved and included, and will actively seek out interaction, at times being vocal for attention, which reflects her eagerness to connect rather than avoidance.

She is tolerant with handling, though slightly more wiggly with excitement, and responds well once engaged, making her very workable and interactive. Her human focus is strong and consistent, forming connections easily and enjoying engagement.

Her independence leans slightly people-skewed, preferring interaction over being alone, which supports her connection-driven personality. Her energy level is a steady mid level, with a tendency to rise with interaction and engagement, then settle appropriately.

She shows good early potential for therapy work, supported by her people-oriented nature, engagement level, and desire to connect, making her a very promising candidate as she continues to mature and gain confidence.

Overall, she is a happy, engaging, and affectionate puppy who thrives on interaction and will do best in a home that embraces her social, connected, and interactive nature.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.

Noodle x Reuben — Parent Overview

Noodle is a sweet, affectionate, bubbly, and wonderfully well-rounded girl. More than anything else, she loves being with her people, and as long as she's included, the details of what's happening matter very little to her. Noodle brings a joyful, easygoing presence to every interaction and has a natural ability to make herself right at home wherever her family happens to be.

Breed: F1 Schnoodle

Weight: 18lbs

Reuben is a stately gentleman with a calm and affectionate nature. He enjoys training, working, and joining in on activities, but his favorite place is simply by your side. Whether it's a walk, a jog, or a playful romp, Reuben is happy to participate, but he firmly believes every adventure should be followed by some well-earned couch time. He is the type of Poodle who leans into hugs and somehow always convinces you that he hasn't been cuddled nearly enough.

Breed: Mini Poodle

Weight: 16lbs

Together, Noodle and Reuben are expected to produce puppies that closely reflect their parents—sweet, playful, intelligent, and highly engaging. We anticipate puppies that are eager to participate in whatever life brings, so long as their people are involved. With mid-level energy that naturally rises with interaction and activity, this litter should be a wonderful fit for families looking for an affectionate, adaptable, and people-oriented companion.
