Date of Birth: 6/4/2026

Romy Litter Temperament Overview:

The Romy litter is an exceptionally outgoing, engaging, and personality-filled group that strongly reflects the wonderful temperaments of both parents. These puppies are confident, affectionate, playful, and naturally drawn to people, often becoming overzealous in their excitement for interaction because they simply love being involved. They are highly motivated by people, play, food, and new experiences, making them eager participants in just about anything. Energy levels range from mid to moderate, with some puppies leaning more moderate as their excitement builds. This litter has great early potential for service work thanks to their confidence, engagement, motivation, and strong desire to interact with people. They are ideal for families looking for an active, involved companion that wants to be part of everyday life rather than simply a typical pet.

Romy Pink

Potential Service + Therapy Candidate

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Pink is a sweet, affectionate, and engaging puppy who needs a brief moment to settle into new situations before her personality fully shines. Once comfortable, she is gentle, respectful, and very people-oriented, enjoying affection and interaction while maintaining an easygoing nature. She is highly tolerant of handling and naturally seeks engagement without becoming overwhelming. While she is one of the more easygoing puppies in the litter, she still has a playful side and enjoys participating in whatever is going on around her. Her balanced temperament, responsiveness, and people focus give her good early potential for service or therapy work. She will do well in an engaging home that allows her a little time to adjust to new experiences.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Romy Red

Potential Service + Therapy Candidate

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: Red is a very affectionate, playful, and engaging puppy with a fun-loving personality. She needs a brief moment to adjust in new situations, but quickly becomes sweet, gentle, and eager to interact with people. She is highly people-focused and enjoys being involved, showing a slightly more assertive play style while remaining respectful and very tolerant of handling. Red thrives on interaction and brings a happy, outgoing attitude wherever she goes. Her confidence, engagement, and willingness to work closely with people give her good early potential for service or therapy work. She will flourish in a home looking for an active, interactive companion that enjoys including their puppy in everyday activities.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Romy White

Potential Therapy ESA Candidate

- Energy Level: Mid Level
- Personality: White is a confident, playful, and happy puppy with a naturally outgoing and self-assured personality. She enjoys people and interaction, approaching new experiences with confidence and occasionally showing a slightly assertive side. White is affectionate and engaging, with a balanced level of independence that allows her to enjoy interaction while also remaining comfortable on her own. She is tolerant of handling, though she may become restless once she has had enough attention. Her playful personality and energy naturally build with interaction, making her a wonderful fit for an active family that enjoys an involved companion. White's confidence, engagement, and social nature give her good early potential for service or therapy work.
- Physical Evaluation: N/A

Romy x Knox — Parent Overview

Romy is a very self-assured, outgoing, sweet, and delightfully silly girl. She loves to play and romp, but she is equally content soaking up every bit of affection available to her. Romy has more personality than most dogs and is completely unapologetic about being herself. Her confidence, charm, and larger-than-life character make her impossible to forget.

Breed: Standard Poodle

Weight: 38lbs

Knox is outgoing, playful, and wonderfully free-spirited. He approaches the world with the assumption that everything and everyone is his friend—and more often than not, he's right. Knox embodies the classic happy-go-lucky male dog, bringing enthusiasm, joy, and an easygoing nature to every interaction.

Breed: F2 Goldendoodle

Weight: 42lbs

Together, Romy and Knox are expected to produce puppies that are every bit as personality-forward as their parents. We anticipate sweet, goofy, outgoing, playful, and fun-loving puppies that thrive on interaction and bring joy wherever they go. Energy levels should fall in the mid to moderate range, naturally rising with excitement and engagement. This litter should be a wonderful fit for families looking for a companion full of charm, character, and affection.
