Romy x Knox — Parent Overview

Romy is a very self-assured, outgoing, sweet, and delightfully silly girl. She loves to play and romp, but she is equally content soaking up every bit of affection available to her. Romy has more personality than most dogs and is completely unapologetic about being herself. Her confidence, charm, and larger-than-life character make her impossible to forget.

Breed: Standard Poodle

Weight: 38lbs

Knox is outgoing, playful, and wonderfully free-spirited. He approaches the world with the assumption that everything and everyone is his friend—and more often than not, he's right. Knox embodies the classic happy-go-lucky male dog, bringing enthusiasm, joy, and an easygoing nature to every interaction.

Breed: F2 Goldendoodle

Weight: 42lbs

Together, Romy and Knox are expected to produce puppies that are every bit as personality-forward as their parents. We anticipate sweet, goofy, outgoing, playful, and fun-loving puppies that thrive on interaction and bring joy wherever they go. Energy levels should fall in the mid to moderate range, naturally rising with excitement and engagement. This litter should be a wonderful fit for families looking for a companion full of charm, character, and affection.
