Verona Litter Temperament Overview:

Verona's litter is an exceptionally personable, engaging, confident, social, and happy group with outgoing personalities and a strong desire to interact with people. They are affectionate, playful, eager to please, and naturally enjoy being involved in whatever is happening around them.

Energy varies more widely within this litter than some, ranging from steady mid level to more animated mid-to-moderate presentations, with several puppies becoming increasingly playful and enthusiastic through interaction. Overall, they are a fun, lively group that should thrive in homes where they can be included, engaged, and treated as true companions.

Several puppies demonstrated very promising early potential for future service and/or therapy work, particularly through their strong human engagement, affection, confidence, and eagerness to connect. Individual working potential is noted within each puppy's evaluation rather than applied across the litter as a whole.

Overall, these are sweet, outgoing, playful, affectionate, and personality-forward puppies who will be best suited for homes wanting an interactive companion and are especially well matched to engaging, lively lifestyles.

POTENTIAL SERVICE + THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid — Excites with Interaction & Calms for Handling

- Personality:

Verona Blue is an exceptionally personable, engaging, affectionate, sweet, and people-focused puppy. He is very confident and self-assured, with a naturally outgoing personality and a strong preference for being with his people.

One of his standout qualities is his very strong human engagement. He actively seeks connection and attention and genuinely enjoys being involved with people. His energy is primarily mid level and rises with interaction, giving him a playful, enthusiastic side when engaged. Importantly, he demonstrates the ability to calm for handling, creating a nice balance between his outgoing personality and his ability to settle when needed.

Overall, Verona Blue shows great early potential for both service and therapy work. His strong human focus, confidence, affection, eagerness for interaction, and ability to calm during handling create a particularly promising foundation for continued working development.

He will do best in an engaging home looking for a true companion—someone who wants a highly connected puppy involved in everyday life rather than a more independent pet.

Verona Green

POTENTIAL SERVICE + THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Energy Level: Mid — Excites with Interaction

- Personality:

Verona Green is a confident, affectionate, personable, playful, and engaging puppy with a sweet, gentle disposition. He is self-assured and outgoing, showing confidence in his environment and a clear preference for being around people.

Although noted as more independent by comparison within the litter, he still tested as strongly people-focused and very engaging. He seeks interaction and connection readily while showing a little more ability to occupy himself than some of his littermates.

He is tolerant during handling, although he can become wiggly with excitement. His energy sits at a mid level and rises with interaction, making him playful and enthusiastic when people engage with him.

Overall, Verona Green shows great early potential for both service and therapy work. His confidence, affection, strong human engagement, social nature, and eagerness to interact create a promising foundation for continued working development.

No health concerns noted.

Verona Orange

- Energy Level: Mid — Consistent & Balanced

- Personality:

Verona Orange is a sweet, gentle, personable, and well-balanced puppy. He is a little more thoughtful when entering a new situation and needed a moment to become comfortable during his evaluation, but he was able to adjust once given the opportunity.

He showed a balanced level of independence and human connection. He enjoys interaction without being overly dependent and displayed nice engagement once he became comfortable. During handling, he was tolerant but somewhat tense, which is consistent with his need for a little time to adjust to unfamiliar situations.

His energy remained at a true mid level throughout, giving him an even, manageable presentation. Rather than immediately throwing himself into a new environment, he benefits from being allowed to observe, settle, and build confidence at his own pace.

At this stage, Verona Orange is not being designated as a service or therapy candidate. While his litter showed strong working potential overall, his individual evaluation indicated that he is currently more unsure in new situations, and it is important to allow his confidence to continue developing without placing working expectations on him.

He should do well in nearly any loving home that understands he may need a brief adjustment period when experiencing something new. Once comfortable, he is a gentle, respectful, balanced companion.

- Physical Evaluation:

No health concerns noted.
