Versace x Slade — Parent Overview

Versace is affectionate, gentle, respectful, and oh so sweet. She can be a touch reserved, especially in new environments or around new people, but she works through that hesitation relatively quickly and returns to her naturally personable self. Versace enjoys her moments of play, but once playtime is over, you can almost always find her making her way back to the nearest lap for affection.

Breed: F1 Schnoodle

Weight: 11lbs

Slade shares a very similar disposition. He is incredibly affectionate and sweet, with a balanced and engaging nature. While he certainly enjoys being playful, Slade is most comfortable and happiest when he is being loved on. He has a gentle way about him and enjoys simply being close to his people.

Breed: Mini Poodle

Weight: 14lbs

Together, Versace and Slade are expected to produce puppies that closely reflect their soft, affectionate temperaments. We anticipate puppies that may need a brief adjustment window in new environments, but once comfortable, should blossom into incredibly sweet, gentle, and personable companions. Energy levels are expected to range from mid to potentially mid-moderate, with puppies that settle nicely for handling and affection. This litter should be a wonderful fit for patient homes looking for a loving, connected companion.
