Garrett is bubbly, playful, affectionate, and an absolute hoot. He loves being included in anything and everything, and as long as he isn't alone, he is perfectly happy with whatever adventure comes his way. Garrett has a wonderfully goofy, carefree personality and a hilarious way of moving through life without a worry in the world. His silly antics, loving nature, and ability to make everyone laugh without even trying are exactly why he is so adored by our team.

Breed: Moyen Poodle
Weight: 20lbs

Together, Arizona and Garrett have produced a boy who embodies everything we love about both of his parents. We anticipate an exceptionally sweet, bubbly, playful, and affectionate puppy with more personality and enthusiasm than one little dog should reasonably be able to contain. With mid-level energy that naturally rises with interaction, he should be incredibly engaging, people-focused, and eager to be included in everyday activities. His affectionate nature and fun-loving personality should make him a wonderful fit for an interactive family looking for a devoted companion who brings plenty of love, laughter, and joy into their home.
